BICKNELL BROS.' CORNER

SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

MEN'S and BOYS' TROUSERS

We have just purchased from a wholesale manufacturer who had "too many trousers and too little money" some of the most wonderful bargains in Men's Trousers that ever came into Lawrence. We have good reasons for believing that these trousers were bought for less money than any of the same value that were ever before offered to the good citizens of Lawrence. You do not want us to humbug you with a "cock and bull" story about how we obtained these bargains, neither do you want a long list of prices. What you do want is THE TROUSERS. COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF.

Also Special Sale of Trousers Made to Measure

In order to keep our pantmakers busy during the dull mid-summer season we have made special prices on some of our fine worsted trouserings, which are exceptionally cheap. Nothing in this sale but first-class merchandise.

LOCAL NEWS.

If you see it in the Townsman, it's news to be relied upon; if it is news and so, you'll see it in the Townsman.

The recent rains have prevented much damage which was threatened to crops.

Awnings have been put up at the Andover Bookstore by proprietor George A. Higgins.

Repairs have been made in the printery department at the Andover Press this week.

Prof. Arthur Cummings, principal of the Hubbardson high school, is visiting at his home in town.

Miss Ella L. Holt has started an intelligence office in connection with her store, the Metropolitan.

The employees of T. A. Holt & Co's store will make their annual trip by bicycle to Nahant, Sunday.

The South church will be opened and services resumed on next Sunday morning, the first time since the fire.

Miss Donovan of Lawrence, is taking the place of Miss Carrie Lewis at Smith & Dove's, during the latter's vacation.

The Adolphe Sax Instrumental quarget gave a fine concert at Shadyside grove, Haggetts pond, last Friday evening.

The Misses Ruth, Olive, Florence and Annie Wakefield, Nelle Berry, Elsie and May Holt are spending a week at York beach.

The batters are up for a new store to be built by J. H. Flint on his land south of the Musgrove building. The contract has been awarded to Hardy & Cole.

Peter T. O'Connor is temporarily employed at the Boston & Maine freight depot during enforced absence, owing to sickness, of Freight Agent Horace Eaton.

The work of constructing the new buildings at the Tyer Rubber company is being pushed with all possible despatch, a gang of bricklayers working nights.

F. P. Higgins has an elaborately constructed playhouse, made by a Ballardvale man with his jack-knife, on exhibition and for sale at his bakery in the Musgrove block.

Rev. J. G. Merrill, D. D., dean of Fiske university, Nashville, Tenn., preached at the union service in the Lawrence street church, Lawrence, last Sunday morning.

R. H. Adams has just received a full line of Standard patterns and show books which he will be glad to have inspected by the women of Andover. Pattern sheets will be given away free of charge.

A movement is on foot in North Andover for securing free postal delivery for the town of North Andover. To attain this end it would be necessary for the town office to become a sub-station of Lawrence.

Fourteen young people enjoyed a moonlight ride to Haggetts pond Monday evening, with boating after their arrival. They were fortunate enough to reach their homes on their return before the shower began.

From Kearsarge village, N. H. comes the statement that Miss Mabel Kemp and Miss Edith Pratt of Boston, and Miss Edith Poor of Andover, are three of the most successful golfers the village can boast and spend much of their time on the links.

Commander Peter D. Smith of the Massachusetts department, G. A. R., has rendered his decision to the Gen. Lawton Post of Lawrence, which has applied for a charter. It is stated that the letter containing his ultimatum was adverse to granting the charter.

The summer resorts which seem to attract the largest number of Andover sojourners are Pine Point, Me., where many Andover families pass an entire summer, Mt. Vernon, N. H., and York beach, Me. Just at present the latter place is being well patronized by people from the town.

The Free Union picnic of Andover, Tewksbury, Dracut, Westford, Billerica, and Tyngsboro granges will be held Aug. 16th at Willow Dale. A programme of sports, music, dancing, boating and a general good time has been arranged. All patrons are requested to wear badges.

The local cricket team will play at Lynn tomorrow with the club of that place. The following players will represent Andover. Haddon, capt., H. Saunders, F. Angus, McGlynn, McDermott, Boyle, Coutts, Christie, Matthew, Ritchie, Callum. Team leaves on 12.37 train for Wakefield.

Superintendent of streets Lovejoy would like to have all teamsters who trig their wagon wheels with rocks on the North Main street hill, remove the rocks to the side of the road before driving away. He has to clear away bushels of rocks left by thoughtless drivers every day, which might be avoided if the men would only do as they ought.

SANBORN & ROBINSON,

327 ESSEX STREET, - LAWRENCE, MASS.

THE FUTURE OF THE NEGRO

Rev. J. G. Merrill, D. D. says Education Will Work out his Salvation.

Rev. J. G. Merrill, D. D., Dean of Fiske University, Nashville, Tenn., preached at the union service at the Lawrence street Congregational church Sunday morning. His sermon was upon the negro question and was very interesting and valuable.

The sermon began with a reference to the solidarity of the United States on account of which it is impossible to have one-tenth of its population viz: the negroes of America remain ignorant and vicious without untold injury to the Republic.

The condition of the negroes of the South in many respects is most deplorable. Their political disbarment, their exclusion from social life, trade discriminations against them are bad enough but worse than any or all of these is their ignorance and the vice and superstition which grow out of ignorance.

THERE IS A BRIGHT SIDE

however and this it is well for the people of the North to know. The uneducated negro is the terrible problem, the educated negro is the solution of the probief. The equipment of leaders to lead the race out of its degradation is one of the most hopeful signs of the times. Such institutions at Fisk university, the oldest and most influential of the schools of its class, are rearing a constantly increasing company of young people who almost without exception are working toward several beneficent results.

THE SOUTH THE PLACE FOR NEGROES

is one of these results. Ten or fifteen years ago graduates from institutions like Fisk, used to speak of the North as "God's country," and turned to the north star to seek their careers much as their fathers had done to obtain freedom. All this is changed. Providence has made it a necessity both for the race and the region that the bulk of the African race of America should abide in the south-land. Where the mass of one's people dwell there should its leaders be found and the better equipped and the more far-sighted the graduates of the college and university are, the more clear is their conviction that they should stay among their own people and lift them up.

A RACE CONSCIOUSNESS

is another outcome of this type of education. Every year it is becoming less a feeling of regret on the part of the bright negro youth that he was born black. In fact a commendable race pride abounds, and why not? Fifty years ago and less the whole race chattels! Many then regarded the negro a mere brute, denied him the possession of a soul. Today a negro artist is one of three Americans whose paintings purchased by the French government hang in the Luxemborg. One graduate of Fisk stands in the front rank of the younger sociologists of America, another as an army surgeon in the late war with Spain was chosen to read a paper before the national convention of surgeons in New York city in June. Another carried off the honors of Harvard Medical school and another of Yale Theological seminary a few years ago, and all these are holding enviable positions in their respective vocations. Fifteen years ago did a negro church wish to have a social no home was large enough to entertain it, where now twenty homes are equal to such a function. The colored man and woman of culture can thus afford to say "Very well! if our white friends spurn our company we can find companionship equally as good among our own and can be content."

EVEN THE GREAT DISABILITIES

which are being put upon the negroes are being used as a stepping stone toward their success. Of the four hundred graduates of Fisk over two hundred are teachers, nearly one hundred principals in high or grammar schools or professors in colleges; fifteen to twenty thousand negro boys and girls are taught annually by those who have received their education at the same institution. These things are so because the white people of the South insist upon separate schools for the negroes and the white teachers of the South do not deign to teach a negro school or permit a northern teacher to be employed in a public school of negroes. Many a negro man owed his success in trade moreover, to the fact that at certain certain white stores certain wares can not be bought by the black man. Even the unrighteous disbarment of the black man at the polls until he can read the constitution and has paid taxes, a thing of which he would not complain if the ignorant white man was treated the same, is a mighty incentive for his becoming educated and thrifty. Each year also some of our brightest graduates enter business and as the years go by they are winning conspicuous success.

THE HIGHER EDUCATION

it has been said, makes the negro worthless. Jails are the destination which they reach. Never has there been a baser slander. Prof. DeBois our negro sociologist has tabulated the entire output of negro colleges and finds that not one of the twenty-five hundred who have received such diplomas is a charge upon the community. Fisk university keeps a close tally of its four hundred graduates and is ready to challenge any northern college to show an equally large percent pursuing in their life work the vocations for which college training fits them.

AN ANGLO SAXON SENSE OF JUSTICE

certainly ought to see to it that this higher education is made possible for the selected few, who are to become leaders of their race. No college worth the name in the North attempts to educate its pupils with the income from tuitions. The sons of millionaires are beneficiaries after they have paid their tuition for from two to three times as much as they pay for their schooling. Everybody is glad that colleges last year had fifty millions of dollars given to them for endowments. But no true hearted American should be content until colleges for the negro have an equipment which will enable them to fit their pupils for their high mission. The sons and daughters of ex-slaves can only affard to pay small tuition. To afford the most modest living to the faculty of these colleges an endowment is an absolute necessity. Could there be a worthier ambition than to endow and name a chair in such an institution?

OUR FATHERS FREED THE NEGRO

What they did will be a curse unless we their sons and daughters elevate them. The next few years is to decide the question whether the United States can survive the strain put upon it by the presence in its borders of one tenth of its population negroes. Let matters drift, do nothing to furnish Christian leaders and the woes of New Orleans which have horrified the world in these summer months will be repeated over and over again. Lift up the race, furnish them leaders and the prophesy of Arnold of Rugby will be fulfilled that this people will contribute to the world a factor in the progress that no other race has or could have done. The present hours are filled with peril or hope according to the ability of the North to officiate and meet the situation.

HE WANTED A LICENSE.

"Is this the place to get a license for a dog?"

"Yes, miss!

"Well, he is a little white poodle."

"That is immaterial, miss."

"And he is scarcely larger than a kitten. I do not think the dog-catchers would take him, but it is best to be on the safe side."

"Yes miss, and do you wish a license?

"I call him 'Tupper' and he is a present from a friend."

"Here is—"

"You see I wanted to make sure he was a genuine poodle; so I took him around to the bird store. The man said he was genuine."

"Miss, if you will only—"

"But 'Tupper's hair ruins his eyes. Yes, indeed. I must have it trimmed."

"There are people—"

"And he is sick so often. But the bird man told me a genuine poodle is always sick."

"Miss—"

"I just wish you could see how intelligent he is."

"This gentleman is waiting—"

"You ought to see how cunning he looks when he eats."

"Miss, do you wish a license?"

"Well, eg—how much is it?"

"Two dollars."

Two dollars?"

"Yes, miss, and please hurry; there is a gentleman behind you waiting to procure a license for a mastiff."

"How much will he have to pay?"

"Two dollars, miss. All dogs are the same."

"It is an imposition! The idea of charging the same for a harmless poodle as you do for a horrid mastiff. I'll not pay it. I'll keep 'Tupper in the house," and then she gathered up her skirts and brushed out."—Chicago News.

ODD ITEMS.

Althought the ostrich has powerful legs and can kick like a mule, his limbs are very brittle and are easily broken. He has two toes on each foot, one being as his principal weapon of warfare. When an unarmed man is attacked by one of these birds the chances are very much against the man unless he can climb a tree or jump over a five-foot wall.

Nothing is too big or too small to escape the maw of our hungry globe. Quicksands are the traps she spreads for smaller fry. Probably the worst and most dangerous in the world are the "Shotts" of the Sahara. These are perhaps the dregs of some prehistoric sea. Now they are covered over with a thick crust of salt and sand. Whole caravans have walked unconsciously into these death traps and been quickly swallowed up. Reclus, the great French authority declares you can sound these quicksands to a depth of 300 feet without finding bottom.

The little goldfish, the pet of household aquariums, never goes to sleep. In this respect the pike and salmon are his equals. They are ever alert for their prey in the ocean as the goldfish is for the crumbs that are fed him from the household tables. In his native element the goldfish forages for himself and has his eyes open all the time.

Bridles were in use in very distant ages. Ancient Thessalians coins often represent a horse with a long rein touching the ground. The young Roman were trained to ride and mount unassisted, but the use of the bridle was known from the first. According to Livy, Aulus Cornelius, in a battle with the Fidene, ordered the Roman cavalry to unbridle before charging, probably to give them more weight.

More than half the population of the earth has direct access to the Pacific.

SOUTHERN GIRLS NOT ATHLETIC.

Possibly the most peculiar thing about the muscle developing in the south generally, Atlanta, particularly, is the failure of women to participate in athletics of any description. The woman who goes in earnestly for athletics of any kind here is a rara avis; there are a few it is true, and there have been those who dashed madly in at the hight of a fad only to dash madly out again at the first opportunity. This fickleness is to be deplored.

In the east, the north and the west the proportion of athletic women is far above the proportion here. Just why the southern woman has never picked up physical culture is a mystery. Society women of the north and east are, speaking in a general sense, sturdier stronger, and have broader shoulders than the society woman of the south. This is due to swimming, tennis, golf, horseback riding and wheeling, carried to that extent which would surprise most woman here.

Innante modesty of the southern woman may have something to do with her persistent refusal to place herself on a footing with her brother in sports and athletics but that seems improbable. There is no good reason to give, but the fact remains. In Atlanta there are possibly not more than four or five who play tennis moderately well—and tennis promises to be the fad this summer—there are not more than half a dozen who play golf, very few who wheel and still fewer who join in other outdoor amusements.

In southern summer resorts these things are largely unheard of; in eastern resorts, Newport, Saratoga, Narragansett, Lenox and such places the women spend nearly all their time outdoors. That seems to be one of the inbred differences between the southern and eastern women.

Efforts are being made to rouse our women to athletic activity, but what the future holds in that line is a totally unknown quanity.—Atlanta Journal.

CRICKET

Mohairs badly beaten by Andover. Methuens lose a Game to Lawrence.

Last Saturday afternoon on the home grounds, Andover delighted a large crowd of spectators by administering a very severe defeat to the crack Mohair club of Lowell in a league game. The weather was splendid for cricket and the home club took first lease of the wickets. Harry Saunders and W. Haddon were first batters and for over an hour defied every effort of the Lowell bowlers to dislodge them. Both were in splendid form and played careful cricket. At 51 Aveyard bowled Haddon who had scored 26 runs. Harry continued to bat strongly and nearly carried his bat being ninth man out, his score of 43 having been got by sterling cricket. The total score reached 96 runs.

Harrison was the most successful bowler for the Mohairs, his six wickets being got for very few runs. Priestly kept wickets well stumping Boyle and Rhodes smartly.

The beginning of Mohairs inning was a very procession. Southam was splendidly caught by Haddon for 2, Hird was bowled by Boyle for a like number, Moss, Parkinson and Aveyard went out for a single a piece and 5 wickets were down for 16 runs. Miller Greenwood and Priestly stayed the rot and the score reached 41 when the former was magnificently caught by Rhodes who a moment later made another brilliant catch of Harrison. Ten runs later the Mohairs inning closed 45 runs behind Andover. Priestly was top scorer with 25. Boyle and Bruce bowled in fine form and the Lowell players were unable to take any liberties. The home team also fielded well.

A meeting of the Merrimack Valley Cricket League was held last Saturday evening, the chief business of which was the consideration of the protest of the U. S. Bunting Club of Lowell against the Methuen club. The latter were late in starting a game and as a result, the protest was upheld and the Methuen club was fined one cent. It was intimated that the cup which Senator Currier had presented to the best batter, was now on exhibition in Lowell, and would in turn be exhibited in Lawrence and Andover. It was voted that the pennant which would be given to the champion team will become the teams' absolute property.

BETTER THAN EVER—The opening race meet at Granite State Park, Dover, was what you might call a "hummer," and the arrangements for the mid-summer event, which will be held August 7, 8 and 9, will be most complete. The card is already well filled, and the entries include all of the well known favorites, for the purse money is of attractive size, and the best horses are now in this section. The Boston & Maine railroad will put excursion tickets to Dover on sale at many of its stations for this event which will be good for an admission to the races.

AN UP-TO-DATE ENGAGEMENT.

"So Miss Newrich and young Clubman are engaged?"

"Yes, but only conditionally. If old Newrich's next speculation fails, Clubman will consider himself released, and if Miss Newrich finds that she can secure a title the affair will be off as far as she is concerned."—Stray Stories.

ASTOUNDED THE EDITOR.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. A RENOWNED PLACE.—Old Orchard with its wide circling beach, its magnificent marine view, its great ocean pier, its vast throng of summer visitors is ever a delightful place at which to recreate, and the relaxation and pleasure resulting from a stay at this resort is ever a pleasant memory. The Camp Meeting ground at Old Orchard is admirably located, and at the Salvation Army Rendezvous which is to be held at Old Orchard August 14th to 28th, there will be a great deal of an interesting and instructive nature transpire which cannot be but of unlimited value to all who attend. For this event the Boston & Maine Railroad will place low rate tickets on sale at many of its stations to Old Orchard, good going on above dates, and good returning not later than August 29th. Information regarding them can be hal upon application to ticket agents.

MISCELLANY.

An aeronaut at Decatur, Ind., has opened a school for teaching the art of making balloon ascensions and parachute drops. A half dozen young men are enrolled for a course of study in the science of aerial navigation. Public exhibitions will be held to give the pupils practice.

William H. Bradley of Woodstock, Vt., has two large scrap books which are of peculiar interest. They contain about 1200 letter envelopes issued during the war of the rebellion, each having printed thereon some patriotic picture or political burlesque applicable to those stirring times, the illustrations accompanied in most cases by some current patriotic phrase or explanatory lines. Many of them were exceedingly ingenious and a number are of artistic merit.

The annual payment of a rose by a church in Pennsylvania as rent, a custom surviving from colonial days early in the last century, calls attention to strange rents in England. The duke of Marlborough gives a banner to the queen every year on Aug. 2, the Blenheim anniversary, as rent for the manor of Woodstock. The duke of Wellington pays the same sort of rent for Strathfieldsaye, presented to the iron duke for his victory at Waterloo. In Yorkshire hundreds of acres bring in no other rent save roses. Formerly land in Norfolk was held by giving the king each year 24 pasties of fresh herrings. In other places, a hen, a side of bacon or other article is given instead of money.

Some years ago one of the biggest railroad corporations of this country employed a confidential peacemaker, with the idea of preventing suits, as far as possible, for personal damages. It has proved a profitable innovation and is being taken up by other railroads.

"The most ancient and most noble Order of the Thistle," which has just been conferred upon the earl of Hopetoun, is the smallest of the three great orders of knighthood in point of numbers, and the longest in poit of title. It consists of the sovereign and British princes and 16 knights.

Bermuda and the Bahama islands boast of the finest roads in the world. They are made of coral and are as smooth as a dancing floor and never dirty. The coral is smoothed and pressed with rollers until it is practically solid. The shell roads of the southern states are also very fine.

The remains of an ancient gallery have been found six feet below the surface at Tottenham marshes, during the excavations for the new reservoir of the East London water company. The vessel is 50 feet long, and has a beam of 26 feet. Its timbers are of oak and elm, and, from the form of the rivets used, it is supposed to have belonged to the Danes who were defeated at Lea valley by King Alfred in 894 A. D. An antique sword and some bones of animals now extinct in England were also dug up, and have been sent to the British museum.

Abram S. Hewitt of New York says that the world is built three times in a century. He says: "It is, of course, not to be expected that the 'sky scrapers' of today will be supplanted by others within the third of a century, but the general advance in the world, and the progress of civilization are of such a magnitude that, broadly speaking, it is true, as I stated, that we rebuil the world about every 30 or 35 years."

CANCER IS NOT INCURABLE

Time was when Cancer was considered as incurable as leprosy. Physicians and friends could give little relief or encouragement to one afflicted with this terrible disease. Even now doctors know of no remedy for this fearful malady; while admitting it to be a blood disease, they still insist that there is no hope outside of a surgical operation, and advise you to have the Cancer cut out, but at the same time cannot assure you that it will not return. You may cut or draw out the sore, but another will come in its place, for the disease is in the blood—is deep-seated and destructive, and beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife or caustic, flesh-destroying plasters. The blood must be purified and strengthened, the system relieved of all poisonous, effete matter before the Cancer sore will heal.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can overcome this powerful and contaminating poison and force it out of the blood. It builds up and invigorates the old, and supplies new, rich, life-giving blood. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy; no mineral can be found in it; the roots and herbs from which it is made contain powerful purifying properties that act directly upon the blood system and make a safe and permanent cure of Cancer. It has cured thousands, why not you?

Cancer is not always inherited; your family may be free from any taint, yet your blood may become so polluted that a severe and stubborn form of the disease may develop from a sore or ulcer on your tongue or other part of your body; a slight bruise or hurt, a little pimple on the eyelid, lip or nose, a small lump on the jaw or breast, a harmless looking wart or mole, and other causes so insignificant as to attract little or no attention. If you have an obstinate sore, don't rely upon salves or ointments to cure it—begin with S. S. S. at once; it will cleanse your blood and prevent the formation of cancerous cells.

Impure Blood Invites Disease.

Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo., writes: "A small pimple came on my jaw about one inch below the ear on the left side of my face. At first it gave me no trouble, and I did not think it was anything serious until the jaw began to swell and became much inflamed. At the same time the sore began to spread and eat into the flesh, and gave me intense pain. I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing did me any good. I then began the use of S. S. S., and after taking several bottles the Cancer healed, and there is now no sign of the disease. This was two years ago, and I am still enjoying perfect health."

Send for our special book on Cancer; it contains much information that will interest you; it is free.

Write our physicians about your case, and for any advice or information wanted; they have made a life study of Cancer and all blood diseases. We make no charge whatever for this.

YARMOUTH, N. S., AS A SUMMER RESORT.

One of the most delightful of short sea trips is to Yarmouth, N. S., the western gateway to the Acadian province. With fine hotels, drives, picturesque scenery and excellent harbor for boating and fishing, Yarmouth is one of the most attractive of summering places. Since the Yarmouth Steamship company reduced the round trip rate from Boston to Yarmouth to $3 the travel over the Yarmouth line steamers to that port has greatly increased. There are four steamers each way each week, and a trip to Yarmouth in August means that the heat of the Atlantic seaboard is escaped. For particulars inquire of H. F. Hammond, agent of the Yarmouth line, 43 Lewis wharf, Boston.

The Paper Hangers' union in Philadelphia has passed a resolution warning the public that health "is jeopardized by allowing old wall paper to be covered with new, thereby permitting all dirt and filth to accumulate and remain, and with it germs of disease." Some ugly testimony is presented in relation to the papering of rooms in which contagious diseases had occurred

A remarkable accident took place in a recent afternoon at Chatfield in Ohio. While a funeral was in progress, a blinding flash of lightning struck the church, followed by a deafening peal of thunder. The church was crowded to the doors. The bolt of lightning struck the chimney and from there jumped to a pillar. The coffin swayed violently and fell to the floor with a crash. Screams, groans and sobs were heard, and smoke and flying bits of wood and plaster filled the church. The scene was indescribably terrifying. Half the people present were prostrated by the shock. One woman will die. Twenty-five others were injured, some seriously. Many fainted from fright and panic ensued. A stampede took place among the horses hitched to the fences nearby, and some damage was done.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover; C. H. For the Starving Millions.

An appeal from the American Ramabai association for funds to carry on work in starving India, is being made all through the United States. There is a branch of the association here and offerings may be left with Miss Agnes Park who will forward them to the general treasurer.

The work is being directed in India by a native woman named Pundita Ramabai who has gone into the famine districts at the risk of her life to save women and children from starvation and ruin. In May, however she succumbed to fatigue, heat, a slight sunstroke, and was very ill for several weeks. She writes as follows.

"You must not worry. God protects us here. If you were to see the famine sufferers as I have seen them, you would know what it is that drives me to work. Thousands of young girls are wandering about Gujerat and Rajputana, who must be saved. It is appalling that over ten per cent. of the deserted girls have gone into the hands of the devil. Our strength and means are too limited; but we must go forward in faith, and save as many as we can. I have sent three women into the famine district, and hope to go again myself as soon as I am well enough.

"The girls saved from starvation in 1897 are doing wonderfully well. At the annual examination fifty per cent. passed. Many will join the higher standard when the school reopens. Forty of the old famine girls are helping me as matrons and teachers in the schools started this year. During the vacation the girls are busy sewing, mending, pickling mangoes, house-cleaning, etc.

"I have been obliged to take one hundred from Mukti to Sharada Sadan. The number in our homes has increased to eight hundred and sixty. I thank all our friends who are holding up my hands and helping me in every way. God bless you all!"

Her friends write of her—

"Ramabai is a native, and knows how to deal with her people. She has had experience in three famines and knows the best methods of relief. She will make one rupee do the work of a dollar. She is wise, economical, and far-seeing. Not only is she clothing naked bodies and putting food into hungry mouths but she is preparing each one of her pupils for a life of self-support, a life of usefulness and purity.

"Ramabai's friends would not wish that one dollar less should go to other relief organizations, but they do ask for the generous support of a work that must appeal to "all sorts and conditions of men."

Rev. E. Winchester Donald is president of the American Ramabai association.

TO SAVE HER CHILD

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Galleger, of LaGrange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruptions, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by Arthur Bliss, druggist.

MISCELLANY.

An Iowa farmer who discovered that one of his hens made a nest on a quantity of wheat in one of his bins decided not to disturb her, but to wait for the arrival of the chicks. In the meanwhile the price of wheat advanced and the farmer gained over $100 by his kind consideration for poultry rights.

A Camden, Me., man stole the young birds from a robin's nest in his yard, and substituted four automatic tin "dummies" which the old birds feed with earth worms, believing that the counterfeits are their own offspring. When the metal insides of the false birdlings are full the sardonic joker takes out the worms and uses them for fish bait. He says it is a great deal easier than to dig worms with a dull hoe.

The largest brook trout ever taken in Vermont was caught out of the Equinox trout pond Tuesday by J. C. Bacon. The fish weighed seven pounds 14½ ounces. The fish was taken on a light fly rod with a small frog for bait.

In a certain class of Russian schools the highest reward given is the initial letters of the empress' name. It consists of the initials in solid gold, an inch and a quarter in hight, on a blue bow. Should its possessor ever become a governess, it will entitle her to a higher salary than she could otherwise obtain.

The natives of Gomera, one of the Canary isles, converse with one another by whistling on their fingers. It is possible to understand a message a mile off. Each syllable of a word has its own peculiar sound. Gomera is cut up by a number of deep glens, which are not bridged over, and as it would otherwise be impossible for the inhabitants on separate sides of a glen to talk with one another without going a long way round to meet, they have hit upon the whistling device as the best means of communication.

A Mercer, Me., farmer sends word that the showers discouraged him. He put his grass into the barn green and then as soon as the weather got settled he wheeeled in sunshine enough to dry it out.

There is an elm tree in front of a shop at Spencer, Mass. About 10 feet from the ground is a bush loaded with ripe currants. How it came there is a mystery. The bush is growing out from the side of the elm tree and must have started from a seed brough there by a sparrow.

TYPICAL MASSACHUSETTS MEN.

When one Massachusetts man steps out of office another Massachusetts man is always prepared to insert himself in the retiring man's shoes. Gen. Draper is promptly succeeded by Hon. Roger Wolcott as the representative of this nation in Italy. Both gentlmen are handsome and dignified and a credit to the bay state.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Critic—Much Adieu About Nothing—Detroit Journal.

Dick Wittington—If I go on a yacht cruise you and Aunt Abigail will be worried about me all the time.

"You can't believe all that you see in print," said the skeptical citizen.

"I should say not," answered Mr. Meekton. "Some things are too preposterously absurd! Why, only the other day I saw a piece about a man who made fun of his wife's cooking."—Washington Star.

EIGHTH REUNION.

Held by the Bailey-Bayley Family at Salem Willows.

Salem Willows—a fresh experience to some of us—was not at its best on August 7th. The fog shut us in somewhat but the air was cool and within the Pavilion, the sunshine of the faces backed up by the unseen company, whose might annually increasing draws together the clay, made us all forget the clouds, the frisky children who sounded the gongs of the special cars outside, the conversation of the spectators on the baicony, and the long but highly important debate of the guardians of the association pocket-book. This last is in very good hands, and when a few more Baileys buy the "Family Register," issued last autumn, with the various reports of the society, also full of valuable matter, the question of ways and means will in future give way to the interchange of genealogical puzzles and discovery with advantage. The retiring president, Dudley P. Bailey of Everett, gave us the names of the "way-up" Baileys of various spelling in America and Britain, our man from Danbury who "peeped through the back window" and Joanna, the ancient poetess—rear-admirals and senators all joining step with Nathan, the man of the 1721 dictionary. An English Nathan on a visit told us of his birth in Yorkshire and of the great crockery business that is controlled by his family in Lancashire. Hon. Wm. D. Northend of Salem, to whom our hearts were drawn, told us with graceful wit of his descent from Edna Halstead, head of the Richard Bailey and Ezekiel Northend line and how Aunt Edna in England wondered at the hasty marriage in so new a country. Alfred Poore, also a Bailey who is historian of the Richard Bailey line published by the Andover Press years ago, was present and letters from Baileys who were hindered, brought the whole West and South into the circle. A touching tribute was paid to the memory of Samuel Gilman Bailey whose greeting we miss at Shady Side since the last meeting and John Colby Page's work in starting the organization was gratefully recalled in the story of the early picnic to Canobie Lake by a few Bailey cousins.

The musical ability and success of Eben H. Bailey was fully demonstrated by the singing of his wife and Leston Wetmore of Boston, and the closing duet written for the occasion by E. H. was of high grade. An Ohio girl, Martha Hawling Bailey, teacher of oratory in Wesleyan University, gave us with vim and good taste two selections.

A matter of interest was the research of a gentleman in England who finds the payment of a shilling for each will he is allowed to handle rather limiting although an excellent arrangement for the Crown who needs money badly for various enterprises on hand. Several Bailey scholars have contributed small sums to defray this necessary fee and he has generously offed to "poke" over the archives and secure the antecedents of our New England lines freely if assisted by the payment of the fee. Hollis R. Bailey has charge of such contributions and it is thought that the small sum of $25 would allow him to see all that has been recorded. So we began the good work by contributing each a mite, hoping to get the rest in time. Three wills of 1617 to 1629 were on hand and will be published in the annual report. The officers elected for the year 1900—1901 were as follows: Pres., Edwin A. Bailey of Lexington; vice-pres., Geo. Edson Bailey of Mansfield, Horace W. Bailey of Newport, Vt., Milton Ellsworth, Rowley, Col. E. W. M. Bailey of Amesbury, Wm. H. Reed, Weymouth; treas., Jas. R. Bailey, Lawrence; sec., H. R. Bailey, Boston; auditor, Walter E. Rokie, Waltham; exec. com. includes officers above and John A. Bailey of Lowell, Eben H. Bailey, Boston, Dr. Stephen G. Bailey, Lowell, Harrison Bailey, Fitchburg, Mrs. Edwin H. Bailey, Ashland, Dudley P. Bailey and P. Whitman Bailey, Boston, Chas. T. Bailey, Lawrence, George M. Bailey, Lynn.

A vote was taken on the matter of dropping annual dues which were neglected and relying on contributors and the party, who had by this time won the confidence of the Pavilion set, sallied out to the fish dinner and a long afternoon of social intercourse. I bade farewell to the Ohio lady, whose father used to run a Lowell mill and who is visiting the home scenes after 46 years of absence, and hurried to my work on the ancestors with new vigor. These gatherings are uplifting; there are no dead men. China and America will unite yet on the worship, alias respect, for the parent,—enjoined in the Decalogue.

"Ah George," she sighed, "do you remember how we used to sit on one chair at papa's?"

COUNTY NOTES.

Employees of the Hawthorne Inn got fighting with beer bottles at Gloucester Saturday, and the police had to be called.

Miss Gertrude Arnold, Bradford, has received word that there is a quarter of million of dollars awaiting her in New York, left by a rich relative.

Henry L. Tibbetts of Lynn, a mason working upon the Waverly school building at Revere, stepped off the staging there yesterday morning, fell to the ground and was killed.

The making of Lynn a billing point for the Boston & Maine freight system, it is stated will save Lynn merchants $60,000 yearly.

Bennie Freeman, 12-year-old son of John Freeman of Gloucester, saved a colored man from death by drowning on Squam river Saturday.

The Republicans of Gloucester open the campaign there tonight, with a flag raising and rally, at which Congressman Littlefield of Maine and Roberts of Massachusetts and others will speak.

FOR GRAND JURY.

AMESBURY, Aug. 3—Fred L. Herbin and his brother Ferdinand were given a hearing in the second district court today, before Judge Cate, on the charge of arson. At its conclusion both men were held for the September term of the grand jury in $800. In default of bail they were committed to Newburyport jail.

It appeared from the testimony that Fred Herbin occupied a house owned by Dr. H. G. Leslie. Herbin owned the furniture in the house and kept it well insured. On the morning of July 14 the house was burned. At the hearing today Deputy Fire Marshals Shaw and Casey conducted the case for the government. Albert A. Cressy of Haverhill testified that on the evening of July 13 he let a wagon to the Herbin brothers who gave an assumed name. Several witnesses stated that they had seen the defendants in the vicinity of the Leslie house just before the fire. Judge Cate found probable cause and held both men for the grand jury.

The defendants were not represented by counsel. Fred L. Herbin during the past month has conducted a merry-go-round on Park street.

BY WATCH AND WARD SOCIETY.

NEWBURYPORT, Aug. 7—An agent of the Watch and Ward society made things lively in Newburyport today.

He secured the arrest of Fred B. Merrow on a charge of selling obscene pictures. He also caused the arrest of Lowell A. Foote, Albert E. Fowler, John Radcliffe and Samuel Noyes, the three former proprietors of business places and the latter a clerk, the accusation being keeping machines for gaming purposes. Warrants were served by the local police. A number of machines were taken to the police station.

The prisoners were at once released on bail and will appar in court tomorrow morning.

DOVE AND DISAPPEARED.

LYNN, Aug. 6—While bathing from a boat in Flax pond this evening, with Miner Ballard and Chas. Blakeley, Edward Martee dove in a deep place and did not come up.

His companions made every effort/to locate him, but were unsuccessful and then called for help. Many other bathers responded, but Martee was not found.

The police were notified and dragged the pond for some time, but without finding the body, and finally gave up their search until tomorrow.

It is thought that Martee became entangled in the long eel grass at the bottom of the pond and was unable to free himself. He was 19 years old and a grocery clerk.

A MOTHER TELLS HOW SHE SAVED HER LITTLE DAUGHTER'S LIFE.

I am a mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover; C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

OLD CITIZEN DEAD.

SALEM, Aug. 7—Charles A. Rhoades, an estimable citizen, died at his home on Union place this afternoon.

He was born in Salem, Dec. 17, 1848, and educated in the public schools. He was a member of the following bodies: Veteran Firemen's association, past grand of Essex lodge, I. O. O. F., past chief patriarch of Naumkeag encampment, I. O. O. F., past grand of Union Rebekah lodge, the Royal Arcanum, treasurer of the Salem charitable association, and had served on the school board since 1890.

He left a wife and two daughters.

MOTORMAN'S LEG BROKEN.

NEWBURYPORT, Aug. 7—A head on collision between two electric cars of the Georgetown, Rowley & Ipswich street railroad took place at Byfield late this afternoon.

One of the cars was a special having a large party of Sunday school picnickers on their way from Plum Island to their home in Boxford. The other was a regular bound from Georgetown to Dummer academy.

The crash was at the foot of a hill near Byfield depot, and both cars were considerably damaged.

The left leg of motorman Knowles of the special was broken, and it is feared he is internally injured. Motorman Harris was pinned under a seat by a dasher of the car so that he could not move until released, but was not injured. The special's passengers were uninjured None of the occupants of the other car were hurt.

The responsibility for the accident has not yet been fixed.

Travel on the line was interrupted for nearly two hours while the damaged cars were being removed.

A RIPE OLD AGE.

PEABODY, Aug. 7—Mrs. Sally Batchelder of this town tomorrow will celebrate the 106th anniversary of her birth which occurred in Chichester, N. H., Aug. 8, 1794. She has failed considerably during the past year and is confined to her bed nearly all the time, taking but little interest in life, her faculties of sight and hearing having become so much impaired.

Sewer Afterthoughts.

In this column last week attention was called to the fact that it is too late now for considering any other method of assessing sewer taxes, than that which has been followed. This being so, it is a waste of time for our good citizens to further agitate against the method employed, but if there are cases where an error in survey or any other detail has been made, now is just the right time for complaint to be made to headquarters. There are many kinds of complaints going around, some worthy of consideration, others almost senseless. A sample of the latter is a well circulated story that Phillips academy was assessed but a little over $1300 for its share, while the truth is that the trustees have been charged with nearly one sixth of the whole assessment, making over $12,000 as their share.

The corner lot question seems to be even more unjust as it is more thoroughly investigated, and there seems to be a reconsideration due to such property. Another cause for complaint is the rate of interest to be charged, many citizens believing 4% to be an ample charge where there is no thought of making a profit upon what is at best a very expensive blessing.

Editorial Cinders.

That is really quite an interesting fairy tale that comes from Frye Village this week. The baths of Diana will not be "in it" with the accommodations to be provided for the commonest Sarah Jane (if she has the cost) if the plans of the versatile discoverer of Ballardvale lithia do not miscarry.

There are probably few of us who know much about Turkish baths, but all of us are bound to see a great deal of merit in the swimming school idea. If the Frye Village baths fulfil their present promises as to equipment and character, it is a very reasonable supposition that one of the features of social life in Andover the coming winter will be the private bathing party, where an expert swimming master will supplant the expert dancing master in teaching "the motions."

We are afraid many of our good friends have forgotten that they belong to the A. V. I. S. It is not alone that they neglect to pick up rubbish in the streets, as many of them of course always will neglect to do, but some of these are so careless as to throw it there! To be sure the rubbish does not consist of hoopskirts and tin cans and such like, but it does consist of dead grass from the cut lawn, dried flowers, garden rakings and all such waste, which many people think to be unworthy of care. The A. V. I. S. code says they are clutter, however.

Andover seems to have a good deal of reason for being quite well satisfied over her tax rate, after all. As the figures come in from the "towns around us" it is found that more have higher, than lower rate, and by comparison we ought really to be quite happy.

But though this is true, the fact remains that we are an awfully extravagant people, we of the sewers and lights, etc, etc, and that we must go slow for the next few years to pay for our past extravagances.

Well Known in Andover.

Rev. Dr. Cyrus Hamlin of Lexington, Mass., who was engaged in missionary work in Turkey 34 years, died suddenly Wednesday night at the home of his nephew, Cyrus Farley of Portland, Me., where he had gone to participate in the "Old Home Week" exercises. Dr. Hamlin was the founder of Roberts college at Constantinople and was principal of the school for ten years.

Last year he visited a number of times, his daughter, Mrs. Lucius O. Lee, whose husband was taking a year's leave of absense from his work in Turkey, and who resided on Salem street.

In all, five of his daughters graduated from Abbot academy, which gives him a more intimate relationship with this town.

Dr. Bancroft to Speak.

The coming celebration of the 150th anniversary exercises of New Ipswich, N. H., will be of some interest to Andover people owing to the fact that Dr. C. F. P. Bancroft, principal of Phillips academy, will be one of the principal speakers.

The introductory exercises will be held in the Congregational church at New Ipswich on Sunday, Aug. 26. Besides Dr. Bancroft, the speakers will be Rev. Calvin Cutler of Auburndale, F. W. Green of Middletown, Ct., John Herbert and R. H. Stearns of Boston.

On Tuesday, August 28, a parade will be reviewed by Gov. Rollins. The orator of the day will be Prof. Charles H. Chandler of Ripon college, Ripon, Wis., and the poet, Timothy Perry of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Communication.

To the Editor of the Townsman:

I would like to explain to the public in regard to the forest fires that have occurred in and near the Holt district.

As I am Fire Ward in this part of the town and have attended all these fires myself, I think I have as good a knowledge of the fires as some people who were not at the fires.

There have been thirteen fires in and around the Holt district since April 1st, and I have attended all of them.

Now my son Robert has been with me and helped to extinguish only four of these fires.

Will subscriber who was so kind as to advertise my son Robert in last week's issue prove to me that he has set any one of these fires.

Will subscriber please sign their name the next time they insert anything about me or my family, as I like to know who my friends are, as I am not ashamed to sign mine.

WM. H. TUCKER.

AT CANOBIE LAKE.

Large Gathering at the Annual Picnic of the Free Church Sunday School.

"There was racing and chasing on Canobie Lea."

A more perfect day last Saturday for an outing could hardly have been had and the attendance at the annual picnic of the Free church Sunday school was the largest at any gathering which the school has ever held. Every ticket was sold and many who went up on the afternoon train were compelled to pay the regular fare. The morning train which was scheduled to leave at 8.45 was ordered by the railroad officials to leave five minutes earlier. As previous intimation of the change had not been given the former time was adhered to. Although it was a Sunday school picnic the crowd in the morning was more than a third composed of adults. A quick journey was made up to New Hampshire and the picnic ground was reached very soon after nine.

As everything at the Grove had been secured free to the crowd, the picnicers soon made themselves at home and the bowling alley, swings and boats were quickly monopolized. Many of the younger boys indulged in a dip in the tempting waters of the lake. Baseball attracted others and a game was soon in progress between nines captained by Gordon May and Joe Soutar Victory rested with neither for after the regulation nine innings the score was found to be a tie at 12 runs.

The bracing air of New Hampshire had a decided effect on the appetites of the crowd and at noon the baskets were brought forth and everybody seemed to know just what to do with the contents. It was a refreshing and appetizing sight.

The 1.30 train brought a large delegation, so large that an extra car had to be put on the train at Lawrence. The newcomers brought additional life and soon everything was in full swing again. The skating rink attracted many and it was a question whether the skaters or the onlookers had the most fun. Sports also began. A baseball game between Mr. Wilson's class and the rest of the Sunday school, gave many an opportunity for seeing baseball as it should not be, but is too many times played. The rest of the Sunday school team was composed of younger players and in order to encourage them in the national pastime, Mr. Wilson's class very generously gave them the game 17 to 8. Mr. Hitchcock as umpire officiated very creditably under the distressing circumstances.

The races followed the ball game. In the 75-yard dash for boys, Howard Bell won the first heat and John MacDonald the second. In the final the latter conceded 5 yards start, but won out easily by about that distance. The boat race for mixed couples was not close enough to be exciting, Miss Alice Coutts and Alex Ritchie, walking (or rowing) away from their competitors. Two other boats entered.

A ride over the lake on the steam launch was a pleasure and many enjoyed it. Nothing occurred to mar the day's outing which was acknowledged on all sides to be the best yet. The special train left Canobie at 7 o'clock and Andover was reached before dark.

The committee in charge of the picnic consisted of John C. Angus, chairman, Alex. Dundas, Mrs. W. S. Rhodes, Miss Annie Smart.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Makes hot breakfast-breads wholesome—no yeast germs, no alum. Makes cake, biscuit and pastry of superior fineness, flavor and delicacy. Makes food that will keep moist and sweet. Is most economical, because it is the purest and greatest in leavening strength. In the easy, expeditious preparation of the finer cakes and pastries appropriate to the season, Royal is indispensable.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

When Frye Village Booms.

And a boom is just what seems to be the prospect for this rather neglected and somewhat run down appearing section of beautiful Andover. It bids fair to become the cleanliest portion of the old burg; a spot where uncleanly, wearied, rheumatic, worn out humanity may repair and come away, their minds refreshed, their bodies clean and healthy, their nerves in a normal state once more.

Water, heat and steam properly manipulated, are to be agents which will bring about these wonderful results, and make Frye Village into the Mecca of all those above mentioned individuals. The Village will become well known by those who never before had heard of its existence. They will travel miles to test the excellence and participate in the delights of Paul Hannegan's Turkish baths and Swimming tanks, for that is what he of the Lithia Water fame has commenced the construction of on the Hussey property, recently purchased from the heirs at Frye Village.

Either by fate or by chance, Mr. Hannegan's fortunes seem bound up in Andover and its surroundings. His Ballardvale Lithia water, now controlled by a company, has become known the world over and now, if his plans be fully realized, his Turkish baths and Swimming school will achieve more than a local reputation. Though still somewhat vague, the plans for his Turkish bath will be similar to those under the Tremont theatre on Tremont street, Boston, only on an improved and larger scale. At this bath is a plunge 10x21 feet in size, while Mr. Hannegan plans to have one 50x100 feet in dimensions. At Boston there is a hot room, 14x20 feet with temperature at 135 degrees; another extra hot room, 8x12 feet, with temperature at 150 degrees. There are also steaming rooms, lounging rooms, shower-baths and various closets or private rooms where the disrobing is carried on. The Frye Village bath will have all these things and more. There are to be accommodations for both men and women and attendants for both.

At the Tremont bath, women are only able to use the facilities from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., but here the baths will be open to both all the time. They are to be situated in a stone building the probable dimensions of which will be about 75x 100 feet. The interior walls and floors will be of marble and tiles. In front, on Main street, will be a pretty and attractive waterfall.

Besides the bath, Mr. Hannegan is planning for swimming tanks where instruction in swimming may be given separately to both sexes. Each tank will be about 25x100 feet in dimensions made with Portland cement and glazed bricks such as are used in the Boston Subway. These tanks will also be in a stone building and probably under a separate cover from the Turkish bath. Here parents may send their children and be entirely assured of the safety while they are being taught to swim. This will be a great blessing to more than one father and mother which will not cost a bit more than the outlay is worth.

The expense in building these baths will be great for they are meant to be classed among the very best in America, and Mr. Hannegan is running some chances, but the public usually appreciates a good thing and they will find one here before many months pass. Work on excavating and laying pipe is even now going on. The plans for the bath are not yet completed however. All the necessary water will be taken from Hussey's pond, which is a body of fresh, pure water, fed by springs. It is here that a great saving in expense will come. The baths will be easily reached by electrics from Andover, Lawrence, Haverhill, Reading, and all neighboring towns.

Mr. Hannegan, who is personally overseeing the work at Frye Village centre, told the Townsman representative in an interview yesterday morning that it was from the Townsman of June 8th, which had an article in the Educational Column on "Swimming" by Superintendent of Schools, George E. Johnson, that he received his ideas of starting a Turkish bath and Swimming school here.

It is certainly to be hoped that the result will be a success as it will undoubtedly be a great benefit to many people both old and young.

A Progressive Doctor.

Dr. J. P. Torrey has just purchased a new X-ray machine which he expects to find very useful in his practice in examining broken bones, foreign substances, diseases of the lungs, etc. The machine is a Ziegler Ruhmkorff coil, with a battery of six cells which sends an eight inch spark through the Crooks tube.

The machine is used with the fluoroscope or by photography. If used with the fluoroscope, which is a box fitting closely to the eyes and enlarging to the other end wherein there is a composition of barium platino cyanide, it must be used in a darkened room, whereas, when a photograph is taken it makes no difference. In using the fluoroscope, the box is placed to the eyes and the object to be investigated is placed between the end of the fluoroscope and the Crooks tube, which in operation is filled with a greenish yellow light and small sparks. One is able to see the bones of the hand, arm, or the lungs and heart of another person. Dr. Torrey has already taken a picture of a broken arm at the elbow and was able to see just how the bones were lying. In taking a photograph the holder containing the plate on which the picture is to be made is placed upon a stand and the object laid upon the plate holder. Then the Crooks tube is turned on above the object and an exposure made, varying in length in accordance with the thickness of the object being photographed.

Dr. Torrey has an operating room fitted up with all the necessities of such a place and his X-ray will be a great help to him there. The machine is portable so that it may be taken to the bed side of the patient when the patient cannot get to the office. He will place his machine at the use of other physicians in the vicinity.

Collect the Debt.

When suffering from rheumatism sharp pains dart through your joints, and there is pain, tenderness and inflammation of the joints and muscles. Life seems hardly worth living. If the world owes you a living, it owes you a happy one. Collect the debt; health is essential to happiness. TARTARLITHINE has given health to many who have suffered for years with rheumatism. Tartarlithine cannot cure all diseases; but it is the one perfect remedy for rheumatism. It is very pleasant to the taste, does not affect the heart or stomach, and has been taken by people with very delicate constitutions with perfect satisfaction. Send for free pamphlet.

In an article contributed to the London "Lancet," a physician of Philadelphia says: "Tartarlithine has given me results beyond all comparison superior to any preparation which I have tried. The promptness of its action is in many cases astonishing, a subsidence of distressing symptoms quickly following its administration. The use of the preparation has sufficed in all cases so far treated, about twenty in number, to practically cure the disorder."

He Will Enter the Ministry.

The following clipping from the Worcester Post concerning a former resident of this place who was well known and liked when here, will be of interest to many Townsman readers.

Fred A. Weil, who for more than a year has been in charge of the church work of the Telegram, has resigned his position to enter the ministry. Mr. Weil will spend a month at his home in Winthrop, after which he will go to the theological school at Meadville, Pa., and there fit himself for the Unitarian pulpit.

During the time he has been in Worcester, Mr. Weil has made for himself the reputation of being not only a hustler but a jolly good fellow. He has made friends not only in newspaper circles but among the church officials and church-going public of Worcester.

Courteous, yet persistent, and always particular never to violate a confidence, Mr. Weil has shown in his work every trace of the true newsgatherer. The best wishes of his many friends go with him.

When in Andover, Mr. Weil was first connected with the Lawrence American as a correspondent from this place but afterwards was given a place in the Lawrence office as circulation manager.

For some time he worked as inspector on the sewers when the system was put in here. Mr. Weil is a North Andover boy.

He began work on the Worcester Telegram as a reporter in the sporting department a little over a year ago but was afterwards transferred to religious work, at which he was kept up to the present time.

Mr. Weil's Andover and North Andover friends will be glad to learn of his present successes and will wish him a successful future in the new calling.

The West church Sunday school pinnic will be held next Thursday at Haggetts pond.

Clarence Mooar was badly poisoned by ivy or dogwood at the Free church picnic last Saturday.

Peter Smith, son of B. Frank Smith, has returned to his father's summer residence at Haggett's pond, after an extended trip through the West, including visits at Cleveland and Canton, Ohio. At the latter place he saw the delegation from the Republican Convention notify President McKinley of his nomination for another term.

The Ladies club of the Grange held their annual social outing at Shadyside grove, Haggetts pond, Thursday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon the women were in full possession of the grove, but in the evening, the husbands and male friends came up to supper and to spend the evening. Dancing was thoroughly enjoyed to music furnished by Thomes' orchestra, and the perfect evening rendered boating excursions over the pond a source of unlimited pleasure. In all, there were nearly 150 people present, mostly Grangers, with some of the campers as guests. It was an occasion to be long remembered if only through the ideal weather and moonlight.

REFUSED A CHARTER

State Commander P. D. Smith of G. A. R. will not grant one to Gen. Lawton Post.

About 40 members of Gen. Lawton post turned out Wednesday night to hear the communication from Department Sommander Smith relating to a charter. The result was not unexpected, and as will be seen by their manifesto to the public there were no indications of "scuttle" in their deliberations. It was voted that a fund be raised at once for the benefit of all needy veterans or their widows and orphans who may be residing in Lawrence, and that this fund be applied strictly for this object and for no other. All future efforts to secure a charter was left entirely with Vice Commander Wainwright with full power to adopt any plan that he may deem advisable.

The names of 48 veterans not members of the G. A. R. have already been reported as possible accessions to Lawton Post. The meeting was characterized by great enthusiasm and a determination to "fight it out on this line if it took all summer."

The manifesto reads as follows:

With regret we would announce to our many friends in Lawrence that our petition for a charter has been denied by the state officials of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The letter from the department commander conveying his decision contains allusions of a personal nature which prevent its publication verbatim. He concludes, however, by saying: "A few comrades who are eligible to become members of the Grand Army of the Republic may suffer by my act, but as department commander I do what I think is for the highest good of our order, and so I respectfully return the petition with my disapproval."

If the question is asked: What will be the effect of this decision upon our existence as an organization? it may be easily answered.

We shall continue to act as we have done heretofore as an independent post, carrying out fully the principles of the Grand Army of the Republic in our internal and external relations. We shall endeavor, by avoiding errors that have been made in the administration of affairs relating to the welfare of the old soldier, to attract to our organization that large body of Civil War veterans in Lawrence who have withdrawn from the Grand Army, or who for various reasons have never affiliated with it.

Relieved as an independent organization from some of the financial burdens resting on the posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, and finding already a hearty response when funds are needed, we shall exercise the right and privilege of ministering to the necessities of those who are bound to us by ties of comradeship, whether members of our post or not.

We shall endeavor to maintain the high standard of patriotism set in 1861-65, realizing that the defense of our country is as necessary in peace as in war—we shall proceed on the even tenor of our way, confident that the time will come when our comrades of the Grand Army will find it to their own advantage to extend to us an invitation to join their depleted ranks as they march against that foe which is certain at the end to be victorious.

GEN. LAWTON POST.

OLD BREWERY SOLD.

The old brewery property on Water street just beyond the McCabe boiler shop has lately become the property of Gutterson & Gould, the well known firm of junk dealers of Common street.

The property has been used for many different purposes, being originally built by a Mr. Ashworth who ran it for a while as a brewery. At several different times it was used for a cider mill by Lumber-dealer Nathan Gage of Andover, a dye house by Henry Tongue of this city, and last by the Lawrence Felt Boot and Shoe company.

The property, which includes the brewery, a stable and a cottage, covers some 14,000 feet and the buildings are all in good condition.

Inside of two or three months the property will be repaired by Messrs Gutterson & Gould who will use it in their business.

RUNAWAY AT CONWAY, N. H.

Four local summer saunterers who are at Conway, White mountains, were the principals in a serious runaway Monday, and two of the party, Mrs. Buell, widow of the late H. A. Buell, and her mother, Mrs. Merrill, who jumped from the carriage, fared the worst. Besides the two mentioned, there were also in the carriage Miss Crosby, daughter of the former: Miss McFarlin, and a driver when the horse took fright and ran away.

The driver, Miss McFarlin and Miss Crosby remained in the vehicle while the other two ladies, greatly alarmed at the situation, sought safety by jumping from the hapidly moving carriage. The three who clung to the carriage were somewhat frightened, but were uninjured, while the two who jumped sustained injuries.

Mrs. Merrill was badly shaken up and Mrs. Buell besides being shaken up, was bruised and otherwise injured. The injuries although severe, are not thought serious; but at the time of this writing their extent is not definitely known.

AFTER BURGLARS.

Further steps are being taken in the Cold Spring brewery burglary case. The outcome will undoubtedly be that the five men arrested in Dover for murder, or one of them at least, will be brought to this city in November to answer to the charge of burglary.

District Attorney Peters is taking steps to obtain requisition papers. Tuesday he secured the affidavits of several Cold Spring brewery employes who had evidence to furnish in the case. Marshal O'Sullivan took the affidavits to the state house in the afternoon and soon requisition papers will be secured from Gov. Rollins of New Hampshire.

The marshal is confident that the men now in Dover jail are the ones who committed the bold burglary here. Important evidence has been obtained, tending to identify the five men, and this will be brought out when the case comes to a trial.

MANY NEW NAMES.

The ranks of the local board of trade have been greatly increased within the past few weeks and in the list of new members appear the names of many prominent citizens of Lawrence whose co-operation with the present members will do a great deal for the organization Among those who have recently become affiliated with the board are the following:

E. P. Willey, agent of the Atlantic mills.

H. M. Kilmer, treasurer of the Merrill Piano company, and connected with the Briggs & Allyn Mfg. Co.

J. I. Milliken, agent of the Everett mills.

Lewis E. Barnes, agent of the Pemberton company.

Andrew B. Sutherland, the Essex street merchant of the firm of Robertson, Sutherland & Co.

E. B. Silver of the L. C. Moore Company.

License Commissioner James A. Coughlin of the Lawrence Equitable Co-Op. Association.

Monroe P. Perley, the Essex xstreet merchant.

Representative Amedee Cloutier of the firm of Hamel & Cloutier.

Thomas Slaughter, proprietor of Pleasant terrace.

Superintendent Marks of the Merrill Piano company.

Horace J. Unwin to take the place of the late H. S. Barrie of the firm of Barrie & Unwin.

George H. Gage to take the place of the late George L. Gage, the wood and coal dealer.

The ranks are now fuller than at any previous time in the history of the local organization, numbering about 175, but during the past year have suffered greatly by the death of some of the best and most prominent members and also by some of the members leaving town. Among the list of those who have passed away during the year appear such names as George L. Gage, George S. Merrill, Lurandus Beach, John Slater, Edward Costello, Hamilton S. Barrie and others.

An excellent group picture of the many who attended the recent outing at Lake Massabesic, N. H., is at the rooms on Essex street, and there is no doubt that the local men present the best appearance of any in the group. The picture was taken in front of the Mountain Grove hotel, on the Auburn side of the lake, where the party had dinner on the day of the very enjoyable outing.

DELIA STILL MISSING.

It is reported that Mrs. J. C. Hubbard of Derry, whose daughter, Miss Delia Clark, left Nashua rather suddenly last week, after going to that city to marry her lover, who had left town several days previous to her arrival, has been unable to find her daughter. Miss Della, so it is said, after leaving Nashua went to Lowell to meet a well known Nashua young man. Her mother followed soon after, but was unable to locate her daughter in the Spindle city.

Since leaving Nashua, it is reported that Miss Delia has been in various places. She has been seen on the streets of Lawrence, and Saturday, it is stated, the young lady was in Haverhill. Since then no one has seen or heard from her.

E. C. Jewell of the L. H. S., has returned from a trip to Lake Champlain.

Miss Theresa Lane of the Tarbox school is visiting at Hollis Centre, Maine.

Sam D. Stevens and family are at Marblehead Neck for the month of August.

Miss L. C. King, Frederick King and Frank King are at the Can-a-Can cottage, White Horse beach.

Robert H. Tewksbury, cashier of the Essex company, and family, have returned from a short stay at Hampton.

Miss Mabel Goggin of Buswell street left today for Old Orchard beach where she will spend a week's vacation at the Fiske hotel.

Miss Mary Mahoney, assistant teacher of music in the public schools, has returned from her vacation spent at Marblehead.

"MY OWN SELF AGAIN."

Mrs. Gates Writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Follows Her Advice and is Made Well.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For nearly two and one-half years I have been in feeble health. After my little child came it seemed I could not get my strength again. I have chills and the severest pains in my limbs and top of head and am almost insensible at times. I also have a pain just to the right of breast bone. It is so severe at times that I cannot lie on my right side. Please write me what you think of my case."—MRS. CLARA GATES, Johns P. O., Miss., April 25, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as advised and now send you a letter for publication. For several years I was in such wretched health that life was almost a burden. I could hardly walk across the floor, was so feeble. Several of our best physicians attended me, but failed to help. I concluded to write to you for advice. In a few days I received such a kind, motherly letter. I followed your instructions and am my 'old self' again. Was greatly benefited before I had used one bottle. May God bless you for what you are doing for suffering women."—MRS. CLARA GATES, Johns P. O., Miss., Oct. 6, 1899.

SAD ENDING.

Captain George A. Devlin, military editor of the Boston Post, met with death quickly about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. In company with Captain Edward F. O'Sullivan, he was passing through an alley which is beside the livery stable of Daniel O'Leary & Co., of 550 Common street. A large carriage elevator belonging to the stable abuts on the alley, and as the two captains came along this elevator was ascending. Captain Devlin, in a spirit of fun apparently, took hold of the edge of the elevator platform and was carried some feet in the air. Then either his hands slipped or involuntarily dropping to the ground, he landed in an uncertain way, for on touching the ground he fell over, his head crashing on the concrete.

He lay there with blood gushing from his nose but to all other appearances dead. A surgeon was immediately called, and he said life still existed. The injured man was taken immediately to the General hospital, but he died in a short time.

The body was removed to an undertaker's and friends in Boston notified.

The widow of Capt. Devlin arrived in Lawrence Saturday evening and the body was taken to Boston on the noon train yesterday.

Captain George A. Devlin, who was killed at Lawrence, yesterday, whither he had gone as a member of the Post staff, was 33 years of age. He was born in Louisiana, but when he was about 3 years old his parents removed to Quincy where young Devlin grew to manhood.

Devlin graduated from the grammar school of Quincy and entered the high school, receiving his diploma from the latter institution at the early age of 14 years.

Later Devlin entered West Point, but left that school in a short time and entered the regular army and served in several of the Indian campaigns in the West.

Captain Devlin received his commission as captain from his service in the militia of Massachusetts. While engaged in engineering work at Marlboro he was appointed captain of Company K, Sixth Regiment, the local militia company in Marlboro. His experience in military affairs and his popularity with the members of his command enabled him to bring Company K up to the highest point in efficiency. While he was at the head of the company no corps of militiamen in the State made a better record in military circles.

Captain Devlin was by profession a civil engineer. For eight years he was an engineer in the engineering corps of the sewer department of the city of Boston. When the Hart administration came into power Captain Devlin's resignation was asked for and delivered, he being one of Superintendent Wheeler's early victims.

The last work Captain Devlin did as military editor of the Post was at South Framingham when he was detailed to cover the annual encampments of the First and Second Brigades of the State militia. His articles on the annual muster of the First and Second Corps of Cadets at Hingham also demonstrated his ability as an expert critic of military manuevres.

Captain Devlin was a well-known man in military circles throughout New England and New York. His face was familiar on Newspaper row and at the Boston Press club.

He lived in a pretty home at 62 Sawyer avenue, Dorchester, where his wife was awaiting her husband's return from Lawrence Saturday night, when one of Captain Devlin's fellow-workers on the Post informed her of her husband's sad death.

LAST SAD RITES.

Simple but most impressive funeral services were conducted today over the remains of the late Lurandus Beach at his residence on Haverhill street. Many of the city's most substantial business men, who had been associated with the veteran manufacturer, were among the large number of people who attended the services.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock the services being conducted by the Rev. Dr. D. C. Knowles of Tilton, N. H. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. F. Rogers, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Hymns were sung by the Arlington quartet of Haverhill. At the grave a brief service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Hutchin of Concord, N. H.

The bearers were W. E. Philbrick, F. A Sylvester, Charles Prescott and W. E. Rowell, representing the Beach company, and the honorary bearers were Hon. George S. Junkins, Capt H. G. Herrick and William Foster.

Among the many beautiful floral offerings was a gates ajar design, inscribed "Our Employer," from the help at the Beach company, who attended in a body.

DEATH RECORD.

Weston H. Pinkham, for many years one of the best known and liked employes of the local street railway, died Saturday at the old homestead at Washington, Me.

Mr. Pinkham was a victim of consumption and resigned his position on the street railway three weeks ago.

Mr. Pinkham's age was 33 years, and much of his life had been spent in this city where he came as a young man. As a hack driver for Stowell, and later for a period of some 12 years with the street railway, he was well and favorably known. He was unmarried. Besides his widowed mother, he leaves four brothers, two at Pasadena, Cal., one in Maine and another in this city.

He was a member of Black Prince lodge, K. of P., and the Street Railway Men's association. Burial will be at Washington, Me.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ALDRED.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Aldred, wife of John Aldred, who passed away suddenly last Saturday, was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the family home on Albion street. Rev. William E. Wolcott officiated and sorrowing relatives and friends from this city and out of town attended the rites.

Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Sprague, Dr. Partridge and Leland Ellis and the following officiated as pall bearers: William E. Aldred, J. E. Aldred, A. L. Adred, sons of the deceased, and J. P. Walworth.

The body peacefully reposed in a black broadcloth casket decked with a few floral tributes from the immediate family and subsequent to the rites, the funeral cortege slowly wended its way to Bellevue cemetery where all that remains mortal was consigned to earth.

DEATH OF JOHN SAGER.

John Sager of 46 May street died at his work at the Pacific mills Tuesday morning. Mr. Sager was an engraver of much ability and had been employed at the Pacific mills for many years.

Mr. Sager was born in England, 61 years ago. When he came to this country he first went to Fall River. He came to Lawrence in the fifties and had been employed over 40 years in the Pacific mills as engraver.

He was prominent in lodge circles, being a member of Grecian lodge, Masons, United Brothers lodge, Odd Fellows, Lawrence council and Royal Arcanum. He was also president of the Odd Fellows hall association.

He is survived by a brother and two sisters. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

METHUEN.

Harry Dowding is recovering from his recent illness.

Thomas Maguire has gone to Old Orchard for a few days.

Mrs. Edwin J. Castle has returned from Salisbury beach.

Miss Eva Shaw visited friends in Lowell the first of the week.

Mr. Chase's house on Hampshire street is undergoing repairs.

Mrs. George E. Blanchard is spending a week with relatives in Lowell.

Louisa Merrill of French street is spending the week at Salisbury beach.

Miss Jennie Langley of Chase street is spending two weeks in New Hampshire.

The Misses Coughlin of Broadway are visiting in Providence, R. I., for a month.

Rev. J. Malcolm Smith, pastor of St. Thomas' church is confined to his home by illness.

Miss Silvea Leavitt and Miss Blanche Ropes of this town are sojourning at Salisbury.

Mrs. Robert Ward and Miss Adeliza Hogg of Roxbury, were the guests of John E. Sawyer on Pelham street Sunday.

Samuel S. Dowding, the well known conductor on the Lawrence, Lowell & Haverhill Street R. R., is confined to his home on the Lowell road with typhoid fever.

The grounds about the new house of F. M. Swain on Broadway are being graded and will soon present an attractive appearance. The house is nearing completion. The carpenters are now at work finishing the inside.

The state line between New Hampshire and Massachusetts is being surveyed. The law requires that this shall be done every ten years. The men who are surveying arrived Tuesday, and began their work here. They are William C. Hawley of Taunton, Ray T. Gile of Littleton and Frank Sheeding of Gill, Mass.

Monday was the busiest day for some time in the local police court. There were four before Judge Rogers on the charge of drunkenness and three boys charged with larceny. The drunks, Charles Kent, Thomas Brian, Stephen Keith and Edward Grogan were fined $3. The three boys were Jasper Waterworth 13, James Blair 13, and James McGovern, 12, of the Arlington district. Waterworth was charged with stealing a $20 bill from the pocket of C. D. Holman, and the other boys were charged with receiving stolen property. They pleaded guilty. Waterworth was placed on probation for six months, and the cases of the other two boys were continued until Aug. 27.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new Nevins' homestead on Hampshire street. The old building is being entirely renovated. The general outside character of this will remain the same, but the inside will be thoroughly changed. A large addition in the rear is being built for domestic purposes. The plans for the new homestead were drawn by the firm of Stone, Carpenter, & Wilson of Providence, R. I., and are considered excellent specimens of their designing. The outside will present a very attractive appearance, and the inside will be finished in an expensive manner. The floors will be of tile and the rooms are to be finished in mahogany. There will be six or seven fireplaces in the building. The work is being done under the direction of Contractor Charles Hutchins.

A party of prominent men of this town went to Revere last Friday, on invitation of the International Sewage Disposal company to examine an experimental plant which has been installed at that place. The party was met by representatives of the company and escorted to Revere beach where a shore dinner was enjoyed. They were then conducted to the plant and given an opportunity to witness the process of the system. The sewage enters the building by means of pipes, where it enters a large tank. From this tank it flows through a series of five tanks, each having the outlet at the top. Thus it is allowed to stand for some time in each tank and the sediment is given a chance to deposit at the bottom of the tanks. From the last of these tanks the water, which is now comparatively clear, is run into a large flat tank, the bottom of which is covered with layers of broken stone, something after the fashion of macadamized roads, except that it is not rolled. The outlet for the water is at the bottom so that it must soak through this crushed stone, and is thus cleared of all sediment and odor. The system appears to work finely. An analysis of the water, which comes from the last outlet, was made by a chemist and it was found to be but little below the purity of metropolitan water. The latter was .99985 pure, and the former .99975. The members of the party tasted the water and could detect no odor or bad taste to it. The company claims that the sediment is valuable as a fertilizer and that this will pay for the expense of the plant. They also claim that the building is odor proof and that the plant may be stationed in any place without becoming a public nuisance. After a thorough inspection of the plant, all seemed to be favorably impressed with the system. The party returned home at about 7 o'clock. The following citizens inspected the plant: Silas L. Holman, C. D. Holman, James H. Lyons, Fred M. Swain, John Q. Hill, Byron Crowell, Robert Moffat, John McQuire, G. C. Cox, Frederick Miller, E. J. Castle, John H. George, Jacob Emerson and J. M. Tenney. The company wishes to install the plant in this town, and has made the offer, it is understood, to install it at its own expense, for a six months' trial, at the end of which time, if it proves all that is claimed, the town shall pay for it. The matter is under consideration by the prominent men of the town, and some action may be taken before a great while. There seems to be an agreement that something should be done toward the better disposal of the sewage, but opinion is divided as to whether it is preferable to petition the legislature for a permit to build a sewer through Lawrence to empty into the Merrimac, or to go to the expense of having a plant, such as the one examined, built here. The former seems to be the most economical but there is a possibility that future legislative enactments may prohibit the emptying of sewage in the Merrimac, as it now does in other rivers of the state; and thus render the sewer useless. On the other hand, there seems to be no good place to station a plant of the sort described. Engineers who have been here state that the only place would be near the location of the organ factory on Broadway. What will be done in this matter is now a matter of conjecture. The matter will be fully considered before any definite step is taken.

The county commissioners were in town last week Thursday and granted the petition of the selectmen to make the bridge which is to be built over the Boston & Maine tracks, near railroad square, a public highway. The Boston & Maine railroad is to build the bridge with the agreement that the town will always keep it in repair, and that the railroad be exempt from responsibility for any accident that may occur on it. As the commissioners have now agreed to make it a public highway, the work of construction will soon begin. The commisioners gave a hearing on the petition of William E. Williams and others to have Forest street widened from Lowell street to the residence of John P. Sco'ay. After investigation they granted the petition, providing the petitioners can get the owners of the abutting land to release the land needed to make the street wider. J. J. Donovan of Lawrence appeared before the commissioners in behalf of the petitioners.

DECLARED NOT INSANE.

SALEM, Aug. 7—John W. Hutchinson, the widely-known octogenarian vocalist of Lynn, is not insane and not in need of a guardian. Such is the finding of Judge Harmon of the Essex county probate court.

The venerable abolitionist first appeared in the probate court July 18 to show cause why the petition of Mrs. Viola Campbell and other heirs should not be granted to have him declared mentally incompetent to manage his affairs, and that his property, estimated at $100,000 be placed in the custody of a guardian.

Evidence submitted at the initial hearing showed that the veteran soloist is an admirer of the gentler sex, and the heirs expressed fear that some woman would snare him for the purpose of securing his property.

At the adjourned hearing, held July 25, Mr. Hutchinson gave an extended account of his life, showing that he had given a good deal of money in aid of the Campbells. He also explained his acquaintance with several women.

Hon. N. M. Hawkes, Hon. John W. Berry and other prominent citizens of Lynn testified in behalf of Mr. Hutchinson.

Mr. Hutchinson made his appearance in court again today, and was examined at length by counsel for both sides. He appeared exceptionally smart and prompted the closest attention of all present by his ready and coherent answers. No new features were developed.

Arguments were made by counsel, and at the close Judge Harmon announced that he would not grant the request of the petitioners and would enter a decree to that effect at the sitting of the court on the first Monday in September. Nearly every one in the court room manifested satisfaction over the decision.

Mr. Hutchinson, who had been present, then arose and walked sprightly out of the court room.

THEY STRUCK IT RICH.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as Arthur Bliss secured the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvellous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung Troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

PROBATE COURT

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Elisabeth Lovejoy Abbott, late of Andover, in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for probate by Anna Berry Abbott, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Salem, in said County of Essex on the third day of September, A. D. 1900, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the ANDOVER TOWNSMAN, a newspaper published in Andover, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, Rollin E. Harmon, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty fifth day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

J. T. MAHONEY, Register.

To the Commissioners of the County of Essex, Massachusetts.

Your petitioners respectfully represent that Chickering street in Andover, Mass., at its junction with South Union street is of such irregular form as to prevent the proper and symmetrical development of the adjoining land, and that public necessity and convenience require that Chickering street be widened, straightened located anew or discontinued as the case may require and that the irregular section be abolished.

Wherefore your petitioners respectfully ask that you discontinue, widen, straighten or relocate that part of said Chickering street lying easterly of the easterly line of said South Union street and southerly of a line commencing at a point in said easterly line of South Union street 140 feet; southerly from the town line between Andover and Lawrence and extending northeasterly about 170 feet to a point in the present southerly line of said Chickering street.

Said proposed new southerly line of Chickering street, and the section of the easterly line of South Union street bounding the section petitioned to be discontinued, are indicated by dotted lines in the accompanying plan. Worcester, Mass., Jan. 18, 1900.

Rev. L. G. March will sever his connection as pastor of the local Methodist church, Sept. 1st, when in company with Rev. Ralph Gillam he will begin an eight months' engagement in evangelistic work. While we all know that the village will lose an earnest, consecrated, Christian minister who has already stimulated considerable influence for good, we cannot but feel certain that Rev. Mr. March with his well known abilities as a singer will be able to accomplish far greater results through evangelistic work, for which nature has endowed him in a special manner and towards which his desires and aspirations seem so providentially turned. The best wishes of the whole community will accompany Rev. Mr. March as he begins this new field of work.

Forest fires are of unusual frequency this season and the expense of fighting the flames and protecting property will undobutedly be excessive. Sunday night the departments were summoned to the Rea woods in the Farnham district. The apparatus was well on the way and reached the Newhall farm on Johnson street before it was found that it was not needed. The damage was slight compared with the recent blaze.

Tuesday evening, Mrs. Myra K. Spear the district deputy of Good Templars, assisted by C. W. Richardson, Andover, as marshal and Mrs. Morse of Andover as deputy marshal installed the following as officers of Rescue lodge: C. T. Walter Carney; V. T., Bertha Hayes; secretary, Thomas Wright; assistant secretary, Isabel Wardrop; financial secretary, Elizabeth Hayes; treasurer, James Goff; marshal, Charles Forrest; deputy marshal, Clara Hayes; guard, Joseph Lloyd; sentinel, Frank Manchester; past chief, C. W. Hinxman.

Forest fires are of unusual frequency this season and the expense of fighting the flames and protecting property will undoubtedly be expensive. Last night the departments were summoned again to the south district for an outbreak in the Gray woods at a point near the forest fire. The fire apparatus reached the Farnham school or the Cochichewick branch of the town service when it was found that the fire was under contral. The steamer and other apparatus reached the Newhall farm and was then turned about. The damage to the woods was comparatively light.

Commissioner McClintock of the state board was in town Wednesday, making a tour of the proposed state road, with Selectmen Halliday and Osgood and Representative J. C. Poor. Preliminary instruction and consideration was given to the question of the town caring for the water from the watersheds in the vicinity. Mr. McClintock examined the ledge in the Swift pasture with a view to utilizing a portion of it for some part, probably the base, of the roadbed. The decision will probably be to use part of the ledge stone in town which is rather soft and part trap rock, in the construction of the road.

FOR FREE DELIVERY.

There is a movement on foot for securing free postal delivery for the town of North Andover. The success of Methuen in securing this improvement in its postal service has encouraged the North Andover people to think that there is a possibility of their securing a like favor. As in the case of Methuen it will be necessary for the town office to become a sub-station to Lawrence. Postmaster Brigham stated this morning to a Telegram reporter that he was aware that there was some talk of this in North Andover, but that no petition has yet been forwarded to him. He further stated that if a sufficient number signed a petition for it to show that it was the desire of the town to secure the system, he had no doubt but that it would be granted. The only thing necessary is that enough petition to make it certain that the majority of townspeople wish the innovation.

In all probability the annexation of North Andover to the Lawrence postal district will make the population of the district over 75,000, if the estimated increasei in population is anywhere near correct. This will be a good thing for the carriers, for the office will then be entered upon the list of first class carrier offices, which means an increase of $200 or $300 a year to the carriers.

Our advice to the Summer Saunterers and Sojourners is that you purchase a good and ample quantity of the necessities of life when you return from the country, beach, or mountains. This war business is apt to boost prices, so be on the look out.

SMITH & MANNING,

8 ESSEX STREET, ANDOVER.

About 100 members of the Bailey-Bayley family association met at the Salem Willows Wednesday, Dudley P. Bailey of Everett presiding. Hollis R. Bailey of Cambridge was secretary. His report dealt with the meeting of former years and offered many suggestions, the chief perhaps being an appropriation of a small sum of money to enable a member of the family, who is in England to prosecute research for the Baileys, to the end that the origin of the family might be obtained.

The following officers were chosen to act during the year current: President, Edwin A. Bayley, Lexington; vice presidents, G. E. Bailey ,Newburyport, Milton Ellsworth, Rowley, Col. E. W. M. Bailey, Amesbury, W. H. Reed, South Weymouth; treasurer, James L. Bailey, Lawrence; secretary, Hollis R. Bailey, Cambridge; auditors, Walter E. Roble, Waltham; executive committee, the foregoing officers ex officio and John Alfred Bailey, Lowell, Edwin H. Bailey Boston, Dr. Stephen G. Bailey, Lowell; Harrison Bailey, Fitchburg; Mrs. Edwin H. Bailey, Ashland, J. Whitman, Boston, Charles T. Bailey, Lawrence, George M. Bailey, Lynn.

LAWRENCE.

FIRST HEAVIES.

The thirty-second annual summer reunion of the First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery association was held at Salem Willows Thursday. A number of the survivors of that noted regiment are residents of this city and Methuen, most of them belonging to Co. B, which was recruited almost wholly from Methuen and Lawrence. The local survivers are Charles M. Sawyer, Albert L. Dame, Sidney Poor, Calvin J. Sargent, Charles H. Sargent, William H. Johnson, Samuel Turkington, Edward Dowding and James Allen of Co. B., and George W. Plummer and William Barnes of the Lawrence company. Many of these are in attendance at the reunion, being the guests of J. Payson Bradley who was the company's drummer boy.

This regiment, which was originally the Fourteenth Massachusetts Artillery has a very interesting history, for it is known throughout the country for its brilliant army record, and the story is of peculiar interest to Methuen people from the fact that the majority of men who entered the service in Methuen were connected with this regiment.

Co. B of the regiment was organized from Methuen volunteers in the summer of 1860. It was sent to Fort Warren and in the latter part of 1861 went to the defense of Washington. When the regiments were detailed for the defence of the latter place, the Fourteenth Massachusetts Infantry was selected after a competitive inspection with other regiments for their excellent discipline, marksmanship, well regulated camp, good appearance and reliable men, in which it excelled all others. The name of the regiment was changed from the Fourteenth Mass. Infantry to the First Mass. Heavy Artillery.

This regiment remained on duty in front of Washington on Arlington Heights, until toward the end of the war, when it was ordered to the front, where it performed the distinguished service that made it so well known. During this latter period it was engaged in more than twenty of those fiercely fought battles. It was found in the thick of the fight at Winchester, Spottsylvania, Nort Anna, Toloptomy Creek, Cold Harbor, the three days struggle at Petersburg, Pauper Spring church, First Hatcher's Run, Strawberry Creek, Second Hatch's Run, Deep Bottom, Five Forks, Jettisville, Sailor Creek, Mine Explosion and the surrender of Lee.

At Spottslyvania it occupied an important position in the centre of Grant's army, and held at bay Ewell's force of more than four times their number, until reinforcements arrived from five miles away, thus preventing Grant's army from being cut in two. For the heroic behavior of the men on that occasion they received the unusual distinction of a special commendation from General Grant. In this battle the Methuen contingent suffered its heaviest blow, 15 men being killed, 15 taken prisoners and about 35 wounded.

The Methuen company occupied an honorable position in this regiment of 800 men. At the battle of June 16, the regimental color bearer was twice shot and our well known townsman Albert L. Dame was given this honorable and dangerous place in the regiment, and had the honor of carrying the colors to the end of the war, and delivering them up to the state at its close. Mr. Dame has an honor that can be claimed by few if any of the soldiers of the war. He was in the 6th Mass. which was in the famous Baltimore riot, and was at the surrender of Lee, thus being in the first and last bloodshed of the war. Amos G. Jones is the only other survivor of the Sixth regiment in Methuen and Samuel Turkington the only one beside Mr. Dame who was at the surrender of General Lee.

Several of the companies in this famous regiment were made up largely of Lawrence men, who acquitted themselves admirably in the campaign. Among the survivors residing in this city, many of whom are at the reunion today, are the following:

Ed. P. Abbott, Robert Buckley, Daniel Calahan, John Forsythe, Lewis G. Holt, William Holmes, John H. Hurliford, Patrick Hughes, Samuel Langmaid, James M. Lerned, W. M. Merrow, Philip Marvin, Amos Southwick, Wm. Sharrock, John E. Sheehan, Alphonso Stoddard, Caleb Saunders, U. B. Townsend.

OUTING AT BELLE GROVE.

A very pleasant outing was enjoyed at Belle grove Wednesday afternoon by the clerks of the Reid & Hughes dry goods establishment and as their guests they had the clerks of the Arlington Co-operative association.

The attendance was large and the hours were pleasantly spent in boating, swinging, dancing, and many sports.

The winners of the different events were as follows:

50-yards dash—School Committeeman William J. McCarthy.

50-yards dash for ladies—Miss Mollie Lane.

Potato race—Miss Josie Maites.

Ladies' race, 100 yards—Mrs. Lizzie Stowell.

Hop, step and jump—E. H. Delano.

Three-legged race—A J. Wills and William Cowie.

Tug of war—Captain Batterbury.

Boat race—Jeanette Palmer.

Ball game—Capt. Connors' team, score 10 to 7.

Whist game—Miss Minnie Dooley and W. Brown.

A cake walk was one of the best features of the day's fun.

Among the many present were: William J. McCarthy, A. J. Wills, James Batterbury, Dennis Connors, William Monroe, William Cowie, William V. Brown, Carl Hartig, Fred Dean, Patrick Murphy, Daniel Minahan, Everett H. Delano, John Gillen, James Ash, William Keogh, James Dineen, Edward Craig, Horace Jepson, William N. Phillips, Fred Collins, Herbert Mayo William O'Sullivan, F. Driscoll, John Daly, Jr., Charles Pingree, James Swift, Charles F. Adams, Fred Craven, M. Boyle, Fred Smith, Parkie Ryan, Miss Minnie Dooley, Miss Jeaness, Miss Mabel Turner, Miss K. Gildea, Miss Edith Golden, Miss Clara Doyle, Miss Nan Brackett, Miss Mollie Lane, Miss Clara Watts, Miss May Young, Miss Lily Roach, Miss Bertha Barker, Miss Josie Maites, Miss Ida Devlin, Miss Margaret Quirk, Miss Hewitt, Miss Hollerhan, Miss Mary Gildea, Miss Susie Finley, Miss Rose Kozelvitch, Miss Evangeline Swan, Miss Carrie Miller, Miss Carrie A. Barry, and a party of clerks from the Arlington Co-operative association.

For the success of the affair much credit is due the efficient committee which consisted of Dennis O'Connor, William Monroe, Dr. Wills and Mrs. Lizzie Stowell.

NOW ON TRIAL.

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 9—The preliminary hearing in the case of William Scott and John Farrell, charged with committing the burglary at the plant of the Cold Spring Brewing company in Lawrence, Mass., in the early part of July last, was begun in the police court here this afternoon before Judge Mason.

Both prisoners pleaded not guilty of the charge when arraigned.. They have been held in Dover jail since their arrest a few days after the murder here on the Fourth of July, for which crime three of their companions have been held for the grand jury.

The trial will probably take the remainder of the afternoon and a portion of the forenoon tomorrow.

The prisoners are represented by Lawyer John Kivel of this city, and they will undoubtedly attempt to prove an alibi.

City Marshal James T. O'Sullivan and Inspector John Sheehan of the Lawrence police force came to Dover this morning and are assisting the local authorities in the prosecution.

Nearly a dozen witnesses will be heard, and the testimony will include that of the two German watchmen who were overcome by the burglars when the crime was committed, as well as that of other Lawrence men who claim to have seen the prisoners in Lawrence on the day preceding the burglary.

HEARING WAS POSTPONED.

The hearing on the petition of the Boston & Maine railroad for an injunction against the so-called independent hack drivers of this city to prevent their trespassing upon the property of the road for the purpose of soliciting passengers, in the equity session of the superior court at Boston Wednesday before Judge Fessenden, was put over and will probably be heard Wednesday, Aug. 22.

Lawyer Charles A. DeCourcy representing the petitioners, and Col. John P. Sweeney representing the independents, were present.

Miss Mary L. Ford of Franklin street has returned from Nantasket beach.

Miss Mollie Gorman has gone to Old Orchard beach to spend her vacation.

Miss Emily Brooks of the Oliver school is at Canobie lake for two weeks.
